Express insurance

Get cover for your mortgage customers in a matter of minutes

Arranging life insurance following a mortgage interview can be something of a chore.

After going through the lengthy process of arranging a mortgage, your customers often won't feel like spending an extra half an hour or so to go through another quotation process. And, as an adviser, you want to ensure your time is focused where you can add most value to your customers and your business.

That's why, at Aviva, we're introducing express insurance. Helping your customers get the cover they need in the time they have available.

Takes minutes

We've cut the questions we ask to the absolute minimum – so your customers can get covered in no time.

Instant prices and decisions

We'll give your customers an instant decision on life insurance.

Smart and simple

The whole process is incredibly simple and straightforward.
